INTRODUCTION

This little volume is the outcome of the author's appointment as family historian several years ago at the annual reunion of the Jacob Koppes branch of the family at Medina, Ohio. At this meeting there were present several members of the Samuel Koppes branch of the family from Nappanee, Ind. They declared themselves as glad to co-operate in doing what they could to get together the history of that division of the family that all might be published in one volume. Accordingly at their meeting in Goshen, Ind., the same year, Harvey D. Coppes was appointed their historian. He promptly gathered and put into form, the history of their division. This manuscript was delivered to the author at the reunion the following year with the assurance that the Indiana people wanted the history combined and would await its completion with interest. This it was the author's ambition to do promptly, as much valuable information was already at hand. And now this labor of love, for such it has been, was begun in real earnest.

The task from then on has been much greater than was at first anticipated. Now it was that the gathering of information harder to get and for that reason the more valuable was begun. Many letters were written to all parts of the country. Some were never answered. The material of many was hard to relate to that already acquired. But for the most part answers were valuable and showed a commendable interest.

The classification of the matter in the present form has necessitated several entire rewritings of the matter, and in this, no doubt, some mistakes have crept in; but we trust the form in which it is now presented will justify any losses and meet the hearty approval of those who have waited so patiently for the appearance of this work.

It is a source of sincere and profound regret that some of those most anxious for its appearance have not lived to see its completion. Notable among these is Harvey D. Coppes, who had so much to do with the Indiana part of it, and to whom we owe grateful acknowledgment, now impossible to repay, except to his loved ones.

Valuable assistance has been rendered by many interested kinsmen and we each owe to them a debt of gratitude for their assistance in putting our records in a form that they may be preserved to our posterity. Many might very fittingly be mentioned by name, but since justice could not be done to all, we refrain from mention of any.

The numerals that appear with names indicate the place of the individual in the family by generations beginning with the oldest recorded members, as number 1. They should assist greatly in working out relationships as well as to distinguish persons of same name.

The directory at the end of the volume is designed to be of service in locating our relations as we travel over the country or for any purpose whatever. We are sorry that it is not as complete as we hoped to make it. It is intended to mention all living members not found in their father's household. When head of family is not blood relation or where such a one is dead the wife or widow is mentioned, but otherwise not.

The little volume, neither perfect nor complete, is respectfully submitted with the hope that it will be a valuable and prized record in many a family, and that it will call to mind many sacred and prized memories. It is, too, to be regretted that we found it not best to write much about many who were indeed worthy of long memorials. This task we have left for another, and should any one attempt such a work we hope this little volume will be helpful in pointing the way.

C. W. KOPPES.

THE JACOB KOPPES FAMILY.

The earliest history of our family that carries with it anything like definiteness is an account of the removal of a grandfather Koppes, whose Christian name I am unable to find, from Carolina to Northampton County, Pennsylvania. There he married the widow of one Michael Kulp. She had had several children by her first marriage, one of whom, Barbary, married Jacob Geisinger, removed with him to Michigan, where they reared a large family; after her husband's death she returned to Ohio and lived to be one hundred years old. Her granddaughter it was married Abram R. Koppes in the year So we see the Koppes-Kulp-Geisinger alliances are not altogether recent affairs, but are —on the other hand—as old as our knowledge of the family. This Koppes-Kulp marriage in Northampton County, Pennsylvania, about the year 1770, resulted in a family of at least five children:

- 2 Jacob Koppes, born June 16, 1775.
- 2 Nancy Koppes.
- 2 Catherine Koppes.
- 2 Elizabeth Koppes.
- 2 Samuel Koppes, b. May 9, 1786.

Jacob Koppes and his brother Samuel removed from Pennsylvania to Ohio in the early years of 1800. They came with families by the slow and tedious means of travel of those pioneer days, heavy lumbering wagons through woodland trail, or more often through trackless forest. Jacob took up his abode upon what was afterward known as the Joseph Beck farm, situated in the rich River Styx valley in Guilford Township, Medina County, O., and Samuel made his first Ohio home on what was afterward known as the William Miller farm, located only about a mile from the Beck farm, and in the same township. The part of this farm where the buildings stood remained in the Koppes family for many years. This farm now belongs to the family of the late Noah N. Yoder, who bought it of the John O. Koppes estate about thirty years ago.

Now we shall trace the lineage of the above named families in order, or as nearly so as we can, giving little more than the mere line of descent, though we should enjoy, and could, with profit, fill a large volume with an account of various members who have filled important places in their time and generation.

Jacob Koppes (2) had two wives. To the first, Barbara Rieser, he was married Nov. 27, 1798. She died Sept. 9, 1822. The second was Anna Swartz, whom he married Nov. 9, 1823. Jacob Koppes died Jan. 12, 1848, and his widow, Anna, died Oct. 9, 1864, aged 73 years, 7 months and 20 days. The family of Jacob Koppes and first wife consisted of the following children:

THE SAMUEL KOPPES FAMILY.

Here we take up the outline of the second large division of the Koppes family. It is with sincere regret that we are compelled to pass by the record of the three families that in all probability sprung from the girls of the family, the sisters of these grandfathers. We have traced the descent of the oldest of the family, and now we turn to that of the youngest, the Rev. Samuel Koppes, one of the brothers who migrated from Pennsylvania to Ohio in the days when our beautiful Ohio was the far West. It is fitting that we pause here to pay a tribute of respect to the father of this branch of the family. Not because of the family, alone, worthy as that has been, and is, but, because, rather, that the Rev. Samuel Koppes was an unusual man, a man of real worth in the community. He was a doctor of considerable repute. He bore this title with as much dignity and as worthily as the one which we have here already given him. It would be hard to tell in which capacity he served his community best. People came to him from considerable distances to receive his advice and to be healed. He was an herb doctor of no small success, and of considerable renown. Many of the family still gather and use the herbs that he used in his practice. "Koppes' Tea" and Koppes' herbs have been popular in and outside of the family these many years. The success that has attended their use has often seemed almost miraculous.

Rev. Samuel Koppes was born in Northampton County, Pennsylvania, May 9, 1786, and removed to Ohio with his older brother, as related in the beginning of this chronology, about 1800, or soon thereafter. He married Elizabeth Delp in Pennsylvania in 1811. To this union nine children were born:

- 3 Michael Koppes, b. July 11, 1812; d. Dec., 1830.
- 3 Sarah Koppes, b. Jan. 23, 1814.
- 3 Jacob D. Koppes, b. Mar. 8, 1815.
- 3 Nancy Koppes, b. July 24, 1817.
- 3 John Koppes, b. Apr. 20, 1819.
- 3 Abraham Koppes, b. Nov. 8, 1821.
- 3 Elizabeth Koppes, b. Dec. 5, 1823.
- 3 Samuel Koppes, b. Feb. 26, 1826.
- 3 Daniel Koppes, b. and d. in infancy in 1828.

Elizabeth Delp Koppes died in 1828, and on the 9th of Oct., 1830, Samuel Koppes married Susanna Berkey, who was born April 20, 1790. To this marriage two children were born:

- 3 Isaac Koppes, b. July 30, 1831; d. in 1832.
- 3 Rebecca Koppes, b. June 13, 1833.

Samuel Koppes, Sr., died April 6, 1860, and his wife, Susanna, died Feb. 22, 1874.
